- Compression, Transmission, Retrieval
- Computer Vision and Pattern Recognition
- Computer Graphics and Visualization
- Computational Imaging
- Virtual Reality
- Game and Animation
- Artificial Intelligence
- Surveillance and Remote Sensing
- Multimedia Security

Venue: Hainan province, located in the southernmost tip of China, is well-known as the most famous and unique tropical tourist destination in China. The capital, Haikou, known also as the 'Coconut City', is the political, economic, cultural and commercial center of Hainan Province. Haikou stands at the northern end of Hainan Island, on the west bank of the Nandu River estuary. This river is the longest on the island and the city's name appropriately means 'Mouth of the Sea'. The city enjoys a tropical marine monsoonal climate with an annual average temperature of 22-26°C. Sunlight, surfing, sea food, hot springs, beaches with fine sand, coconut palms constitute a picturesque tropical landscape.

Paper Submission: Prospective authors are invited to submit full-length papers in PDF format prepared in the Springer's Lecture Notes in Computer Science (LNCS) template and written in English at the website (<http://cmt3.research.microsoft.com/ICIG2021>), with 10 to 12 pages' technical content including figures and references. All full-length papers (including regular and special session) accepted for presentation at the conference will be included in the Proceedings of ICIG2021, to be published by Springer's LNCS series as well as be indexed by EI.

Paper Template: Please use the Springer LNCS Proceedings Templates. All papers will go through double-blind review process.
